By Tuesday night, 12 coaches had arrived. After some visiting and relaxing in the afternoon, 16 people went to the Cupboard Café for dinner. Later, a roaring fire was built in the pavilion fireplace and many gathered around for more visiting.

Wednesday: Today was a beautiful day, perfect for visiting under trees. Lunch was in camp or a few tried the Valley Café in Dillard and came away praising the food. More coaches arrived (now 16). The ice cream/meet and greet social was great: ice cream, cookies, and German Ice Coffee. The guests were introduced and welcomed by First Vice President Van Armstrong. Dinner was at Cupboard Café, followed by games. At least 2 hand & Foot games were won by the women, while others played Dominoes. B.G. told us a “bedtime story” (slides and music) and they were wonderful.

Thursday: There was a great start to the morning with a German-style breakfast provided by the hosts. After feasting on eggs, liverwurst, pumpnickel bread, bacon, fried taters, and several other choices, it appeared many were skipping lunch. It was a beautiful sunny, breezy day to sit outside. Dinner was at LaCabana Mexican and was very good. Games followed with several tables of hand & foot and Dominoes. B.G. presented another bedtime story and had another big success. We had a nice rain shower in the evening.

Friday: Today was a beautiful morning but rained some in the afternoon. The Art Show of members’ crafts, photos, jewelry, thimble collection, and other items, was a success. Lots of desserts were provided by individuals then B.G. did a demonstration of his photography created via an HDR program. Fantastic, B.G; thanks. Then on to dinner of pizza delivered to the clubhouse. More games and lots of laughter were followed by B.G.’s bedtime story. There was also a fire in the pavilion fireplace for anyone not playing games.

Saturday: The days were so beautiful in these mountains that they just have to be mentioned. The hosts held a “whatever was left over” breakfast (pizza, cold cuts, breads, desserts). Trips to Highlands, Clayton, Franklin, Black Rock Mtn. State Park, Foxfire Museum, Reeves Hardware, etc., filled the day. We had scattered showers that kept some people under various awnings and/or taking naps. Dinner was BBQ cooked by Jim Mathis with many sides provided by members. Dinner music was provided by our guests, Len & Pat Corley, who played their Appalachian or Mountain Dulcimers. More games in the evening followed by B.G.’s bedtime story.

Sunday: Sunday – Coffee and doughnuts followed by devotion where George Silver spoke about Faith. A roaring applause was given for the hosts and this rally. Many thanks go to Irma, B.G., Karen and Jim for a great job as hosts this month.
